the "Massachusetta Amendment," and in justifi-

The object of this provision [to withhold the right of suffrage from adopted citizens for two years ofter they shall have received their naturalization papers] was to protect the integrity and purity of the ballot box; to prevent political parties, on the ever of important elections, rallying to the polis, awarms of voters, wholly unfit to exercise the elective franchise.

Now, we considered this language very explicit. The "awarms of voters, wholly until to exercise the elective franchise," are plainly indicated to be those men who, born on a foreign soil seek our shores from choice, and after remaining here a time specified by our laws, ap ply for and obtain certificates of citizenship. Our cutemporary could allude to no other class for the subject includes no other. Yesterday he did not deem them fit to exercise the elective franchise, until after they shall have been here a "term of years," and shall have made themselves well acquainted with our political economy. To-day he says :

We are not for increasing the term, [ofproba-tion.] nor are we very particular about naturalzing at all !

This is certainly one of the most remarkable instances of vaulting position we ever heard of ; we doubt if so great a change over before came over the spirit of one's dream in a single night Indeed, it approximates one of the most diffi cult feats of first class gymnasts, and we ques not what our cotemporary yesterday said they were; the restrictions he sought yesterday to place upon them, then, are not necessary; having slandered them he retracts, and makes the broadest possible apology, by proposing to embrace them as equals ! Yesterday, referring to the "Massachusetts

Amendment," the Gazette said :--

Amendment, the Gazette said:

Gov. Chase in his late letter, however, proposed a milder and quite as effective a method of meeting this difficulty, [i.e. the ignorant loreign vote,] viz: a reduction of the period of residence in the United States to three years, with the privilege of voting two years afterwards. This effectually guards the ballet box, without extending the period of naturalization to an inordinate length.

This language shows plainly that our colemnate in the privalence of the proposition of the proposit perary yesterday favored the proposition of Gor. Chase, and rather preferred it to the "Mas sachuretts Amendment." He argued the neces sity of such restriction thus ;

Persons of foreign birth, all agree, that the immigrant should serve a reasonable probation before entering on the important work of sover ignty. It would certainly take an American three or four years to become intimately acthree or four years to become intimately ac-quainted with the workings of the British

Such an amendment of the law as Governor Chase proposes would leave foreigners to their own free volition in applying for the privilege of naturalization. Now, they are stimulated to it by the bribes and persuasions of dishonest politicians. Just before State elections, thousands receive their final papers without coathe money for the purpose being contributed by candidates and their friends. Clerks and Prolate Judges, under stress of party fidelity and candidates and their friends. Clerks and Pro-bate Judges, under stress of party fidelity and pledges, in numberless instances have done this work gratuitously. The consequence is, that hastily naturalized voters are precipitated on the poils in large masses, who are, of necessity, wholly enacquainted with the groins of our institutions, and the policy best calculated to subserve the great interests of the country.

The editor of the Gasette then succeeded in plainly defining his position. He left no room for doubt. After a night of rest, or unrest, probably, during which the question, will all its bearings, was revolved in his mind, be thus blots are Democracy or Black Republicanism in ont the record of yesterday, and takes a posi-tion which has startled the entire community. of the natural superiority of white men in tion which has startled the entire community. hardly believe our cotemporary in earnest; he principle of this proposition—the fact that this two years' amendment places a service may possibly be exercising his ironical abilities; if so, he has succeeded beyond competition in the line. But there is something behind this ironical pleasantry—this expression of love for it it is impossible to the foreign born—of our neighbor. There is an off a sound reason for it. It is impossible to frame such a reason for it. the foreign born—or our negative state of the force of what he wrote yesterday. His article was mixchizrous in its tendency to Republication in Ohio, where "the naturalized rote must be secured at all hazards." Our neighbor put his foot in it; and, in order to get the party out, has put in his other foot! We have, as considerately as possible, manneled them, and now leave our neighbor with a bucket of water on either shoulder.

They come back most ly on foot, and are in a miserably ragged condition. Comparative relief has been afforded them at the different stations of the Hochaday Mail Line, but their number is so great that this succor does not amount to much. The correspondent of the Republican suggests that they should be relieved by the government.

THE REPUBLICANS IN KANSAS -- We learn by the Lecompton Democrat that there is a good prospect of a desperate feed between what are termed the "Black" and "White" Republicans of the Territory. The former are for negro suffrage and equality generally; and propose to avow the Black Republican creed openly in the Convention at Osawatamia. The others, on the contrary, contend that if such a course is taken, the De. morracy will be so reinforced by the people that they will sleep all before them. They propose to organize the "Free State party" at the Convention to be held at Big Springs, after the Osawatamie Convention and to do abserve the great interests of the country.
